

MOEIN SAMANI

Full-Stack Web Developer

ABOUT ME

I am a highly skilled MERN stack developer with expertise in building robust and scalable web applications. My primary focus lies in developing efficient RESTful APIs and leveraging the power of Redux Toolkit to manage complex state in my projects. With a deep understanding of the MERN (MongoDB, Express.js, NextJS/React.js, and Node.js) stack, I have successfully delivered numerous projects from concept to completion. My experience spans across various industries, including e-commerce, healthcare, and finance, allowing me to adapt quickly to diverse project requirements. Aside from my technical expertise, I am a collaborative team player who thrives in agile development environments.
